

SHADOW SYNFONIA

INTELLIGENCE REPORT: HIGH AMBITIONS PASSENGERS

AGENT EYES ONLY

Urgag the Hutt

Urgag is a minor hutt, which makes him more dangerous (less to lose, more to prove). He is the syndicate leader who chartered the luxury cruise and summoned the criminals' conference.

The unusual thing is he did not use his personal spacecraft, as is Hutt custom. However, we believe he is trying to shore up his fledgling syndicate on neutral ground, which the Corellian crew can provide in luxurious fashion.

This type of conference is a routine matter for him, and we suspect he also enjoys the chef's gourmet cuisine on high Ambitions.

Kecra Zol

Notorious Weequay slaver and trafficker. She is our primary target. Hunt her down and end her career, one way or the other.

Thiscitt Tudda

Snivvian art forger, thief, fence, and smuggler. A regular partner of urgag's. Supposed to bring a veneer of snobby class to the crime syndicate's front operations.

A petty criminal with dangerous aspirations. He sponsors struggling artists then "forgets" to pay them.

Tanely Burhum

We can find little substantive information on this middle-aged human woman with long white hair. Rumored to be an eccentric art collector. Likely a “plus one” for Thiscitt Tudda, and/or a wealthy client who’s being set up for a proper fleecing.

Zarel of Noss

Serennian male, late middle-age. Racketeer and lesser crime boss. A new partner of Urgag’s. Wealthy former separatist. Presents himself as a merchant lord of noble lineage to the authorities and corporatists. Engaged in local politics on Serenno.

Lorla Geldrosso

Another mystery passenger. She makes an effort to hide her appearance under a black synth-weave hooded cloak. We could find even less information on her than Tanely Burhum. Vaguely matches the description of an Imperial “blind hit” bounty. Species unknown; believed to be human or near-human.
